BEHIND THE MASK

You don't have to put on a costume to wear a mask. We all wear masks, to some extent, every day. Some are thicker than others, some lie loosely on the exterior, while others are glued on so tightly that we don't know where the mask ends and where reality begins. Some people wear masks to gain popularity or respect, while others do so because an alternate reality seems so much more appealing than the one they've got. But what happens when the mask hides and distorts us so completely that it replaces our true selves with a glimmering, shimmering falsehood? Come and discover tonight, what, if anything, can survive "Behind the Mask."

Enjoy the evening!

CLEANING STAFF SONGDANCE

Headed by: Chana Baila Cohen, Rachel Cohen and Gitty Yarmush

Lyrics by: Orly Bar-Nir

When rooms are in a mess
That's when the cleaning staff steps in
To straighten up the desks
And clear the overflowing bin!
Oh, for us it seems that there is no hope,
For we just live lives that are suds and soap
Keep the windows open - we need oxygen.

CHORUS:

We work overtime and get paid in dimes

Because the budget's tight!
This place does shine and gleam
A sparkling pristine white!
No duties were shirked for we've overstayed

Yes, we're overworked and we're underpaid

Cleaning staff cleans on 'til the dawn breaks night.

Sleek gray mice sure add spice
To our colorful career!

Flood or spill, clean it we will -

That's our job and that is clear!
Disinfect, wipe every speck,
For we must pass inspection!
Scrubbed out tiles, after a while Reveal a clear reflection.

When leaks burst in a pipe,
We all come rushing through the door
To build up dams and dikes
And mop the oceanic floor!
To decontaminate, spray and scour
Salary runs at three dollars an hour -
Enter not this line of work - it is such a chore!

CHORUS:

Our low pay, yes we must say
Will evoke lots of pity
At this stage, minimum wage
Is beneath our dignity!
Halls are swept, gardens well kept
All the credit we will take!
Time to rest, we won't detest
Our much needed coffee break

"Behind the Mask"

WELCOMING CHOIR

Headed by: Aliza Kahn, Bassy Pines, Peshy Shain and Shoshana Toiv

Lyrics by: Rivky Lichtenstein Piano: Chaya Sara Alter

Look past my eyes:
I've built a life of lies.
I stifle the truth -
My tormented youth
Lurks behind my thick disguise.

As I gaze deep inside,
I wonder why I hide.
Erecting a wall,
I'm sheltered from all -
No one to whom I can confide.

You know it all,
You show it all,
But you can't see
All that I hope,
All I want to be.

Heart is blocked,
Tightly locked -
Where is the key?
I can not cope,
I'm no longer 'Me'!

CHORUS:

Brick by brick, developing
The walls of my heart.
One person, two faced,
And numerous disguises.

The many masks envelop me,
I play different parts.
I must find my place -
It hurts to lie.

Brick by brick, developing
The walls of my heart.
One person, two-faced,
And numerous disguises.

The many masks envelop me,
I play different parts.
I must find my place -
It hurts to lie.
Thunder crashing, lightning beams.
We run away, we plot and scheme.
Escaping our fears,
Rebuilding lost years,
Recovering our shattered dreams.

But as water's reflection tells,
We mirror each other well.
Let's stand face to face,
We all have our place.
Behind our secure outer shell.

We don't know why,
We want to lie.
It's easy to flee,
To the comforting guise,
The world of fantasy.

To ease the pain,
Just break the chain
I'm "Me" and you're "You"
Steer clear of lies -
To yourself be true!

CHORUS:

Look inside and ask:
What lies beneath the mask?
We each have our tools,
Our own set of rules.
Fulfilling individual tasks.
It's hard to remove the disguise,
Untangle from the web of lies.
It's easy to hide,
Retreating inside,
But acting true means acting wise.

Mirrored wall,
Reveal me all,
Help me to grin!
Let everyone know
What lies deep within.
Just take stock,
Let's unlock -
Revealing the key.
Your true colors show -
Face reality!

CHORUS:

Brick by brick, demolishing
The walls of my heart.
One person, one face,
No need for more disguises.

Day by day, I'm polishing,
I'm doing my part.
I've now found my place -
No need to hide.

Brick by brick, demolishing
The walls of my heart.
One person, one face,
No need for more disguises.

Day by day, I'm polishing
I'm doing my part.
I've now found my place -
No need to hide.

TRAVEL SONGDANCE

Headed by: Rus Brocha Wolf and Faigy Grinblatt

Lyrics by: Rivky Lichtenstein

We're soon departing,
Sky's bright,
Time's right
For exploring.
New stage starting -
Thrilling,
Willing
To go touring.

All aboard - towards greener pastures!
The sky's the limit - we're soaring
Above the clouds today!

PILOTS:

It's an adventure
Steering,
Peering
For clear weather.
If safe, we venture
Counting,
Mounting,
Light as a feather .

All aboard - the plane speeds faster,
Coasting the runway together,
On time, we're proud to say!

CHORUS:

Hurry up, it's getting late!
Get to gate 38 -
One step towards expanding our horizons
Burst of air, a giant leap,
Climbing over mountains steep.
Excitement growing, knowing
Our future lies in wait
Out there ...
Let's persevere
To be prepared
When we get there!

STEWARDESSES:

We're here to serve you,
Seating,
Feeding
Meals of plastic.
Hope we deserve you-
Cleaning's
Demeaning
But it's fantastic.

All aboard - it's great to meet you!
Life changes may seem too drastic,
But beginning anew.

BUSINESS:

We're frequent flyers -
Cashing,
Stashing.
Must meet our buyers.
Lending and spending,
Earning,
Learning
Which deals are ending.
All aboard - it's great to greet you!
Our lives, like planes, are ascending...
Hope to win with you!

CHORUS:

GIRLS:

The past's behind us,
Erasing,
Bracing
Towards facing the present.
Good things will find us -
Don't turn,
We'll learn
The future is pleasant.

All aboard - new times we ponder.
Past memories too unpleasant,
We've escaped those days!

TOGETHER:

A suitcase flurry,
Packing,
Stacking,
No matter the ages.
Life has no worries -
We're gone,
Sight's on
New chapters, new pages.

All aboard - way, way yonder
Embracing many new stages,
To take shape today!

Lyrics By: Mrs. Kanner

I thought I knew we'd glue together,
We'd surely see each other through.
'Twas clear that we were friends
forever,

But it was too good to be true.

Why have I whispered all my secrets,
So she's entrusted with my heart.
But we've discovered she's deceitful,
And it's ripping us apart.

All this time she's just pretending,
Leading us along.
Thought this friendship's never ending,
Surely we were wrong.

So it's good bye now,
I'm hanging up the phone,
I'll walk away.

You can't deny now,
A friend is someone you can not betray.
How double crossing,
She was just pretending,
Message she was sending,
There's no happy ending,
So good bye now,
It's sad that Shira's leaving us this way.

Though we don't recommend this faking,
The aching in her heart is deep.
She didn't know the risk she's taking,
Would come down tumbling in a heap.

Where's the joy in stealth and lying,
Fearing we would know,
When friends are true there's no denying,
How the love can grow.

So it's good bye now,
Take this false pretense,
And throw it away.
We can't deny now,
A friend is someone who will always say,

"We want to help you",
When you're hurt and crying,
When you're sobbing, sighing
On friends you'll be relying,
So good bye now,
Take this false pretense and throw it away.

She's masquerading, she's evading,
Nothing to gain.
Shira's lonely,
Not only in pain.

Surely a reason, that she's done this,
We can't walk away.
We can understand her
And help her today.

How can you defend her,
The number one pretender.
When you see that we don't even know her.

We've always been so kind,
To her mother who is blind,
And now we find she lied,
We'll really show her!

Though we don't recommend,
That she double cross a friend,
We care; concerned that Shira's surely hurting.
We feel we must extend
Ourselves fully to our friend,
And let her know that we will not desert...

"Behind the Mask"

YEHUDIS' SONG

Lyrics by: Esther Rockove

I stand so broken
My heart split in two
Shira, I can't believe
What you thought I'd do

We shared so much together
Even the picture booth
Just one thing we didn't share - the truth...

I thought I had done it,
Finally found a friend
And now, in a moment
It all comes to an end.
Couldn't you give me a moment
To hear my reply
That we both are living - a lie

I built myself a mansion
With rooms large and grand
Filled with many riches so fine
But the structure you see
Had not long to be
Because it was just built - on sand...

The maids all around me
Were shadows, you see,
The butlers and the cook just the same
They made me feel refined
As they polished and shined
But it was just a childish game

I thought we were a great pair
We did the same things
Come Erev Shabbos
The same hair straightening
I thought you'd need a partner -
I thought it was me
But now I know differently...

Both of us new girls
It was not always fun
I was so glad to have you
To face everyone.
We went through the classes
Recess and stuff
But I see that wasn't enough.

You think I'm a rich girl
But I'm poorer than poor
My only real treasure was you, my friend
If only you knew
Had the slightest clue
How I've lived in a world of pretend...

You think I betrayed you
But myself I betrayed
I have been the one who was blind
With you I should have shared
The truth - not been scared -
A real friend like you wouldn't mind...

"Behind the Mask"

MOTHERHOOD CHOIR

Headed by: Aliza Kahn, Bassy Pines, Shoshana Toiv and Peshy Shain

Lyrics by: Esther Cagan

In a cradle fancy-free
You lay sleeping peacefully
As I marvel at the gift of you
That HASHEM has given me

You may try and break away, feel that Here you cannot stay
But the love inside my heart won't stop

From the moment that you came
Life would never be the same
To protect and to teach you right
Would become my newfound aim

CHORUS 1:

When a new precious life unfolds
Who knows truly what it holds
Trials and tribulations
Or joy and jubilations
Scattered down a winding road

CHORUS 2:

But take comfort now my dear
A mother's love is always near
Her heart is always seeing
Feeling what you're feeling
There to help you with your load
Down life's long road

You won't always understand
The emotions you command
As you strive to conquer all alone
What each fresh day will demand

REPEAT CHORUS 1 AND 2

Now until my life's complete
I will try to make yours sweet
Over mountains high,
Through rivers wide
There's no challenge I won't meet

And if ever you should fall
Just remember through it all
In my eyes you'll always be the best
I'll be there before you call

CHORUS 1:

But take comfort now my dear
A mother's love won't disappear
Even when she's gone
Her memory still lives on
To help you with your heavy load
Down life's long road

We would like to thank all our sponsors. We apologize to all those whose names were inadvertently omitted and to those whose sponsors came in after we went into print.

To our very esteemed and dedicated principals

Morah Spector, Morah Goodman and Mrs. Gornish

No amount of words can suffice to thank you for everything you have done. Thank you for always being there to allay our worries and guide us with your advice. A special thank you for putting up with so many girls out of class. We could never have produced such a beautiful performance without such overextending principals.

Ronit, Channie, Tirtza and all of Y.O.B.

"Behind the Mask"

Dearest Mrs. O.,

Even at the peak of frustration,
When all we received was yet another rule and regulation;
Even when the money only appeared by subtraction,
And we were very gently reminded to rev into action;
Mrs. O. came every day to visit, no differentiation,
And for those bits of advice we're in full appreciation;
Mrs. O. the enthusiasm you put into our production,
Really shows thru 100% - absolutely no reduction;
We can't thank you enough - it's no exaggeration.
Just make sure to enjoy a restful vacation.

Ronit, Channie and Tirtza

To our most unbelievable, dedicated, and devoted

Ronit,

Yes, Ronit, we got the posters up, even without your ten-year-old friend... and yes, we managed even when you were away ... and Srul stayed (usually!) till when you needed him. Ronit, without you this play would be just a dream, something behind the mask...

Yes, you truly did a smashing, awesome job. Without your constant devotion and hard work, we couldn't have done it.

Thank you, Thank you, Thank you!

Channie and Tirtza

Dearest Mrs. Eckstein and Mrs. Klein,

Words will not suffice to express our appreciation for everything you have done. From photocopying our sheets, driving us around or just being a listening ear. You really overextended yourselves. We couldn't have done it without you! (Really!!!)

Ronit, Channie and Tirtza

To the Goodman and Feldman Families:

Remember us?... We don't know where to start. Thank you so much for your consent, concern, support, encouragement, great ideas, and unlimited patience. We would never have managed without your outstanding care and devotion. Thanks so much!

With much love,

Channie and Tirtza

"Behind the Mask"

Dearest Tirtza and Channie,

O ur play could never have come out
U nbelievable without T he incredibly hard work you put in
S o it's only fitting to
T hank you from the bottom of my heart for your help
A nd your constant positive, cooperative attitudes.
N o job was too big or too small - you
D id it all with a smile and a "no problem," and I always knew I could count on you
N ight or day (once I learned your schedules.) So I'm G oing to miss working with such great heads, and if you want to know what kind of job you did, just read between the lines!

Thanks a million!

Love always,

Ronit

Dear Ronit,

As usual, we're so proud of who you are and what you accomplish. May you go
"M'chayil El Chayil"

Love,

Mommy and Daddy

To the greatest Office Staff in the Elementary Office,

Thank you so much for everything you have done. Whether it was photocopying computer work or the phones - you were always there! We really appreciate it.

Channie and Tirtza

Dear Rivky Lichtenstein, Orly Bar-Nir, Mrs. Kanner, Esther Cagan and Esther Rockove,

Your magnificent songs truly enhanced our play. Thanks for all the hours and hours of work you invested to help produce our play.

Mrs. O., Ronit, Channie and Tirtza

Dear Props and Sewing,

You finally did it - thanks for the hours and hours and nights you gave up... building and sewing. Your costumes and props are genuine masterpieces that enhanced our play

Ronit, Channie and Tirtza

"Behind the Mask"

Behind the Scenes at "Behind the Mask":

From the "1st visit" in (Shira's) Pre-1A "classroom" (SNOBS included,) we were off to a great start ... practicing at "lunchtime", discussing diets (hope no one belongs in the "maternity ward"!)) ... late nights and later nights, in various houses and park benches (just no "water parks") as the "2nd visit" and 3rd and 4th, etc. came and went, until Ronit actually visited the "Airport" ... yet you complied with every "Request", with never a "confrontation", going above and beyond the call of duty – even "Returning the (turnpike) bracelet" to me without a scratch ... And so the "principals" didn't even have to "Discuss" this – "The Truth Comes Out" – you're the Best Cast in the World!

Thanks for all your cooperation!

Love,

Ronit

P.S. This "Real Conversation" was sent by "Fax" – hope it's mushy enough!

How can we adequately thank such a wonderful teacher...

Mrs. Steinfeld

Thanks so much for the effort and all those long nights you gave up to help make our production the beautiful one it was.

Ronit, Channie and Tirtza

Dear Ronit,

Face two Face, Behind the Mask

Which one is it you may ask –

Not that it really matters – it's you

Thanks for the great job you always do.

Mrs. O, Morah Spector, Mrs. Gornish, Morah Goodman

Dear Chanie O.,

It's hard for us to put into words

All that we want to say –

Our Hakaras Hatov is endless

For what you do each day.

"Behind the Mask," another gem

On the chain of things you've done.

Working with you is a lesson

To be learned by everyone.

Morah Spector Mrs. Gornish Morah Goodman
and the YOB High School Staff

"Behind the Mask"

Dear Tirtza and Channie,

"Play '05" – "Behind the Mask" – you've worked hard from the start
Unifying everyone – each girl who played a part
Periods off – Props and Sewing, all the things we need
Pizza, 'Srul – what are we owing? You really did some deed.
So now enjoy all that you've done; you have memories that will last
The play was great and so much fun, now, please, go back to class.

Morah Spector Mrs. Gornish Morah Goodman

To our wonderful Students,

You've worked so hard, until late at night

To make "Play '05" come out just right.

"Behind the Mask" you were the best

It's been some task, now get some rest!

Morah Spector Mrs. Gornish Morah Goodman

Dear Channie and Tirtza

Let's "Face it" ... peeking "Behind the Mask" was quite a challenge.
And you made it all happen! Thanks for unmasking our brilliant production of '05. Those late nights paid off

Yours,

Mrs. O

To my dear faces without your masks,

Actresses, choir, dance, props, sewing, stage hands and everyone in between.
After all is said and done, without you, production '05 would only have been a dream—thanks to you, it was a reality.

May you never have the need to wear any sort of mask—just be the best you!

Yours,

Mrs. O

Dear Chana Hatanian

Thank you so much for all your help. It was great to have you to count on.

Love,

Ronit

Thank you
Mr. Nussbaum, Tziporah and Malkie for all your work!

For our one and only Sewing Advisor
Miss Nathan,
With your funny wit and humor you kept us in "stitches".
Without you we couldn't have produced such beautiful costumes. "Sew" Thank you, Thank you, Thank you!

Channie, Tirtza and your Sewing Machines

Dear Mrs. Pitterman,
We don't have the words to express our genuine appreciation for the endless hours and time you put into our props. Your ingenious ideas and masterpieces really enhanced our production.

Mrs. O., Ronit, Channie, Tirtza and Props '05
